HOUSTON, TEXAS; TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 2023; 11:01 A.M.

THE COURT: Okay. Good morning, everyone. This is Judge Lopez. Today is April 4th. Folks, the line is completely unmuted. I'm going to ask everyone to please keep your phone on mute unless you're addressing the Court.

I'm going to try to give this a chance.

We're here on a Scheduling Conference in Adversary Proceedings. Let me go ahead and take appearances. Why don't I start in the courtroom?

MS. HARDY: Good morning, Your Honor. Jennifer Hardy of Willkie Farr on behalf of the Texas Plaintiffs.

Also on the line, I have Ms. Kara Cisco (phonetic) from Willkie.

THE COURT: Okay. Good morning.

Okay. Mr. Battaglia, I see you there. Good morning.

MR. BATTAGLIA: Good morning, Your Honor. Ray Battaglia for Free Speech Systems.

THE COURT: Okay. Does anyone else wish to make an appearance today?

MS. DRIVER: Your Honor, Vickie Driver with Crowe & Dunlevy on behalf of Mr. Jones. I'm also here with two of my colleagues who will be filing for a pro hac vice very soon, Mr. Christopher Davis and Mr. Derek McClellan out of my office. You may see them there on your screen.

THE COURT: Okay. 1 2 MS. DRIVER: And I'm here to introduce them and if 3 Your Honor would not mind, they have had far more to do with 4 negotiating what will be presented to the Court today. Even 5 without the pro hac, would Your Honor mind terribly if 6 either Mr. Davis or Mr. McClellan spoke? 7 THE COURT: Absolutely not. Welcome, and welcome. 8 Okay. Anyone from --9 MS. DRIVER: Thank you, Your Honor. 10 THE COURT: -- let me just start with any other 11 party in the FSS case and then I'll turn to the members of the Jones case. 12 13 MR. SINNREICH: Good morning, Your Honor. Sinnreich from Paul Weiss for Connecticut Plaintiffs in both 14 cases and my colleague Martin Salmouchy (phonetic) is also 15 16 on the line and also appearing by video. 17 THE COURT: Okay. Good morning. 18 MR. SINNREICH: Good morning. 19 MR. CHAPPLE: Good morning, Your Honor. Ryan 20 Chapple on behalf of the Connecticut Plaintiffs, as well. 21 THE COURT: Okay. Good morning. 22 And some folks are still joining. I'm going just 23 ask everyone, the line is completely unmuted. There's about 24 26 callers, including me, on the line right now. I'm just asking everyone to keep their phone on mute until -- I think

we can pull this off without having to do the five star.
 1
 2
              So anyone else wish -- let me turn over to the 3
    Jones case. Anyone from the Committee wish to make an 4 appearance in the Jones case?
 5
              MR. ZENSKY: Good morning, Your Honor. David 6
    Zensky, Akin, for the Official Committee of Unsecured
 7
    Creditors. The Committee is not a party to the adversary.
    I don't anticipate having to make any comments, but the 9
    Committee is available should anything arise that the Court 10
   needs to hear from us.
11
              THE COURT: Perfect. Thank you very much, 12
   Mr. Zensky. Good to see you.
13
              MR. ZENSKY: Good to see you, Your Honor.
14
              THE COURT: Anyone else wish to make an appearance 15
    today?
         (No audible response.)
16
17
              THE COURT: Okay. Who should I turn this over to?
18
              MS. HARDY: Your Honor, I have to make a couple of 19 introductory remarks, then I will turn it over to 20
   Mr. Sinnreich at Paul Weiss.
21
              THE COURT: All right.
22
              MS. HARDY: So Your Honor, we're here on two 23
    Scheduling Motions and the two non-dischargability Adversary
24
    Proceedings, well, four -- two on behalf of the Texas
25
    Plaintiffs, two on behalf of the Connecticut Plaintiffs.

We filed Scheduling Motions. We've been in discussions with the Debtor, both the Texas and Connecticut Plaintiffs and I believe we have largely resolved issues with respect to the Scheduling Motions. THE COURT: Okay. MS. HARDY: And I believe Mr. Sinnreich is going to outline the resolutions. THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Mr. Sinnreich, I'll turn it over to you, sir. MR. SINNREICH: Thank you very much, Judge, and thank you for not making me try to figure out the five star stuff today. (Laughter) MR. SINNREICH: Good morning -- afternoon, everyone. Dan Sinnreich from Paul Weiss on behalf of the Connecticut Plaintiffs.

As my colleague just mentioned, we've been in contact and we've met and conferred with Counsel for the Debtors over the last several days. I think -- although I'm sure Mr. McClellan, Mr. Davis, Mr. Battaglia will keep me honest. I think that we've reached consensus on scheduling for these summary judgment motions.

The agreement with respect to Jones FSS are different, so I'll start with the agreement with respect to Jones.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. SINNREICH: With respect to Mr. Jones, we've agreed on a modified schedule that would first extend Mr. Jones' time to answer the non-dischargability complaint and that would also push back the summary judgment briefing schedule that had originally proposed in our motion by about 2-1/2 weeks. That time will be helpful to Debtor's Counsel to familiarize themselves with the State Court record and the State Court judgment that we expect will be the subject of the summary judgment motion.

So the agreed on schedule would be -- and we'll follow -- subject obviously to Court approval, we can follow this up if everything is ironed out with the stipulation and proposed order that memorializes this to make life as easy as possible for Your Honor and different parties.

The proposed schedule would be that Mr. Jones answers the Complaint on April 28th, 2023; that the Sandy Hook family's summary judgment motion would be filed on or before May 12th; that Mr. Jones' opposition or response would be due on June 12th; that the Sandy Hook family's reply brief would be due on July 7th; and that obviously Your Honor will schedule a hearing if a hearing is appropriate, at your convenience, and we would propose that the deadline to exchange Exhibit Lists be due approximately one week -- or not approximately, excuse me, would be due one week before the scheduled summary judgment hearing, if the hearing is scheduled.

THE COURT: Did you have a proposed week that you wanted, you were thinking about for the hearing on the summary judgment?

MR. SINNREICH: So Your Honor, it's summer and I understand that folks are traveling. I wouldn't want to propose one without consulting with my colleagues and with our opposing counsel. Maybe what we can do, if it's okay with Your Honor and if it's okay with my adversaries, is we can all circle up and compare calendars and maybe propose a week or two that we think works best. Obviously is the Court has blackout dates, we'll avoid those.

THE COURT: Yeah, just reach out to my case manager when you have kind of a -- maybe a couple of proposed dates and let's just get one on the calendar for that.

MR. SINNREICH: Will do, absolutely.

THE COURT: And then you can upload the stuff, you know, when you've got everything there, all the dates, and I can just sign it.

MR. SINNREICH: Okay. Will do, Your Honor. We'll do that before we upload the Stip and proposed order.

THE COURT: Okay. Okay. Mr. Jones, what about FSS?

MR. SINNREICH: Sure, so with respect to FSS, there's a threshold legal issue in the FSS Adversary Proceeding about whether a corporate Debtor proceeding under Subchapter V like FSS can be held liable for claims under Section 523(a) of the Bankruptcy Code.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. SINNREICH: It's a relatively new legal issue, a novel legal issue, and as Your Honor may be aware, there's a split authority on this issue. The Bankruptcy Court in the Western District of Texas just issued a ruling on this issue and then after the ruling, certified a direct appeal to the Fifth Circuit to resolve precisely this question.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. SINNREICH: There's a petition pending in the Fifth Circuit requesting leave to pursue a direct appeal that was filed about two weeks ago, and our proposal would be -- and the parties have agreed, subject to Court approval, that we would abate the Adversary Proceeding with respect to FSS until 14 days after the Fifth Circuit issues an opinion on -- in this appeal on the question of whether a corporate Debtor proceeding under Subchapter V can be held liable under -- for claims under Section 523(a) of the Code.

THE COURT: Okay. So I take it, if the Fifth Circuit takes it, everything will just be abated and we'll wait for the Fifth Circuit to rule. And if the Fifth

Circuit doesn't take it, then someone will reach out and we'll figure out where things go.

MR. SINNREICH: Right. Your Honor, I mean, obviously I'll defer to Mr. Battaglia on his preference with respect to his client, but I expect that what would happen is that he would file a motion to dismiss with respect to FSS on those grounds.

THE COURT: No, I got it.

So just in terms of -- so for now, the FSS

Adversary Proceeding will just -- somebody will upload something that just abates all the deadlines until further Order of the Court or something. And then someone will reach out when it's time. That makes sense. That's fine with me.

MR. SINNREICH: That's right. That's the agreement between the parties and sounds like it's okay with the Court. So we'll --

THE COURT: Yeah, 100 percent.

MR. SINNREICH: -- get something.

THE COURT: 100 percent. And I'm familiar with the legal issue and I know the posture of where things sit with the Fifth Circuit with respect to Judge Gardanas' (phonetic) decision, so I've got no issues with it.

MR. SINNREICH: Great. Your Honor, nothing else -- unless Your Honor has questions, nothing else from the Connecticut Plaintiffs. I think that that irons out the various issues we've raised with our scheduling motion, so obviously if my colleagues, you know, Counsel for the Texas Plaintiffs or any of the Debtors have something to correct any mistakes I may have made, I'm happy to turn the microphone over.

THE COURT: All right. Ms. Hardy?

MS. HARDY: Thank you, Your Honor.

And Your Honor, what Mr. Sinnreich described with respect to the Connecticut Plaintiffs would also apply with respect to the Texas Plaintiffs, so we have agreed with that.

THE COURT: Right.

MS. HARDY: I did also want to mention one additional thing. I think both the Texas and Connecticut Plaintiffs initially filed the Adversary Proceedings, we had contemplated consolidated Adversary Proceedings against FSS and Jones. Obviously this is taking different paths, and so we have agreed to dismiss without prejudice Mr. Jones from the FSS Adversary and FSS from Mr. Jones' Adversary Proceedings on they will proceed as two Adversary Proceedings with a sole Defendant.

THE COURT: Got it.

MS. HARDY: I think that also covers everything -- oh, other than, you know, of course, in the event that the

Court does not grant summary judgment in the Jones' case, 1
   we've only agreed so far as to the schedule regarding 2
 3
    summary judgment. Then of course, we would -- 4
              THE COURT: Yeah, I think that makes sense.
 5
              MS. HARDY: -- meet-and-confer about a subsequent 6
   schedule.
7
              THE COURT: That makes perfect sense. That makes 8
   perfect sense. Thank you.
 9
                     The schedule that the parties have 10 proposed, it makes perfect sense. If it works for you-all, 11
   I've got no issues with it and I'll be incredibly 12 accommodating on the dates. Just find a time that works.
13
   But I'm going to want to -- they're important issues, so I 14 am going to want to block out, you know, essentially have 15 half an afternoon on it unless the parties take the entire afternoon, but I want to make sure that everyone has as much 16
    time as they need to make whatever arguments they want, and 17
18
   everyone is prepared for it.
19
              So just reach out to my Case Manager once you-all 20
   have agreed.
21
              Let me just turn to -- I guess, Mr. Battaglia, it 22 sounds like your adversary is going to get put on ice for a 2.3
   while.
24
              So Ms. Driver, I just want to confirm that you-all are okay -- or I should say for anyone here who is appearing

25

on behalf of Mr. Jones that these dates -- these proposed 1
   dates are acceptable?
 2
 3
             MR. MCCLELLAN: Yes, Your Honor.
             MS. DRIVER: I'm going to turn this over to 4
 5
   Mr. McClellan. Thank you.
 6
              THE COURT: Oh, Mr. McClellan, I see you there.
7
   found the box. Sorry about that.
8
             MR. MCCLELLAN: So I'm -- yes, Your Honor, 9
   everything in regard to scheduling and everything that has 10 been discussed today is consistent with the understanding that -- the agreement that we, you know, hammered out over 11 12
   the last couple of days.
13
              THE COURT: Okay. All righty. So you-all are -- 14
   my understanding is everybody is going to reach out and get 15
   some dates and reach out to my case manager, once everything is solidified. And then you'll upload whatever you -- 16
17 whenever you upload it, reach out to my case manager. I'll 18
   take a look at it and I'll get it signed and on the Docket 19
    right away, okay? Thanks, everyone.
20
              Anything else we need to talk about today?
21
             MR. SINNREICH: Nothing for the Connecticut
22
    Plaintiffs. Thank you, Your Honor.
2.3
              THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.
24
             Anything else?
25
         (No audible response.)
```

THE COURT: Okay. All righty, folks. Thank you very much for your time. Just upload it and let me know.
 1
 2
 3
              Thank you.
 4
              THE CLERK: All rise.
